TOYS

DON'T GROW UP!

What does it mean to become an adult? Take on more responsibility, be wiser in your decision making or leave a legacy behind? What it definitely shouldn't mean is: having less fun! Everyone has an inner child, a playful and curious voice in their head that wants to explore and express itself.

There has been a culture of work versus play, acceptable adult behaviour versus innocent naive enjoyment. But more and more our society welcomes you to openly strive for what makes you truly happy. Especially video games tend to spread through all age groups and are now widely accepted. We connect as a community in games and through our shared experiences. So what are the toys of our adulthood? You know what I'm talking about fellow citizens: Let's celebrate our fondest possessions with this issue of Imperial Geographic!
